DETAILED ACTION

Specification

Full continuation data is required in the first paragraph of the specification. The patent number is required.

The use of the trademark Teflon® has been noted in this application (Page 14). It should be capitalized wherever it appears and be accompanied by the generic terminology.

Although the use of trademarks is permissible in patent applications, the proprietary nature of the marks should be respected and every effort made to prevent their use in any manner which might adversely affect their validity as trademarks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 17 recites the limitation "the insertion" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action: —

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless —

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 2, 5-8 and 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,213,997 to Hood et al. Hood discloses an electrode tip for thermokeratoplasty that includes a stop for limiting the insertion depth into the cornea (Fig. 21, # 364), a body (Fig. 20, # 352) that implicitly must have an inner channel for the tip to be electrically connected to the connector (Fig. 20, # 356). Figure 11 discloses an embodiment with the tip and stop inserted into the body, the insertion being implicitly limited by a mechanical stop or the bend in the body. The tip of Figure 21 is disclosed as being attached to the spring beam (Col. 12, lines 26-27). This attachment is interpreted as being inserted similar to Figure 11.

Regarding claim 2, the stop is insulated (abstract).

Regarding claims 6 and 12, Figure 18 discloses an electrode assembly with a sleeve (Fig. 18, # 284) with a detent (Fig. 18, # 290) to secure (keep from rotating) the probe tip to the probe connector (Col. 11, lines 1-4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13, 14, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 6,213,997 to Hood et al. Hood is discussed above, but does not disclose the assembly of the electrode. The basic assembly is obvious by the structure of the device to one skilled in the art with no unique techniques or procedures disclosed.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2, 4-8, 10-13 and 15-18 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,723,093. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are an obvious change in scope.
